[Connect with all surgeons and nurses]

[Marc Levitt, Pediatric Surgeon, CTO founder, Washington D.C., USA]

So, I really want to connect to all of the surgeons and nurses out there that could benefit from our collaboration. You can email me directly. I love hearing from people that I don't know, from people that I know when they send me their successes or their difficult cases. It makes my day when I read those emails. And we want to continue to bond and make these relationships until we have spread the Rainbow Fish colored scales throughout the world. Remember the kids' story about the Rainbow Fish? Where there was a rainbow-colored fish in the ocean and all the little fish came up and said, "can I have one of your colored scales?", and he started to give them out. And eventually the entire ocean was a rainbow. Well, we want to give those scales to the surgeons and the nurses and the parents and the patients out there, so that we keep improving the care and helping the patients get better and better until all colorectal problems are solved.
